We are a non-partisan group of people from varied backgrounds who desire to be an effective part of the governing process while expressing our views to elected officials.

We wish to provide a voice for those citizens with similar beliefs and to be a source of information on the current issues relating to our government.

Our meetings are free and open to the public. We usually meet on the fourth Tuesday of the month at 6:30 p.m. in the Community Center Room of the Washington Center, 500 West Washington Street (corner of Washington and Dickinson Street) in New London, Wisconsin.
